5.2. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS & EXECUTION OF ORDERS

5.2.1. Currencies, cryptocurrencies, stocks, shares, equities, commodities, indices, futures, derivatives, and other financial instruments (individually or collectively hereinafter the "Financial Instrument(s)") are some of the financial instruments being offered by the Company. While the Company offers various financial instruments, these offered instruments are not guaranteed to be for all types of investors and traders. Accordingly, the Client is solely responsible for determining whether or not he/she is suitable to trade any particular financial instrument.

5.2.2. The Client is solely responsible for ensuring that his/her knowledge, experience, objection, and intention are suitable for the Company's services, including the aptness to the financial instruments he/she invests. Market advice and a financial portfolio can be offered without the obligation of providing it to guide the Client. The Client ensures that he/she fully understands the market information or financial portfolio he/she receives from the Company, wherein implementation of any market information or financial portfolio shall imply that the Client has carefully assessed and evaluated it.

5.2.3. Through initiating an order or trade, the Client accepts the concept of price slippage or market gapping in the financial instruments that may result in market price fluctuation. That being so, the Company does not and cannot guarantee that the outcome of such volatility will be at the advantage or disadvantage of the Client.

5.2.4. Conducted trades under 30 seconds should be reserved with an affiliated provider of the Company before execution, which otherwise is considered invalid and will be canceled, including its profit.

5.2.5. The Client understands and agrees that all market transactions involve at least two parties (hereinafter the "Counter-parties"), wherein the Company is the counter-party of the Client for each order or trade. The Client acknowledges that all trades and orders are non-transferable to a different trading account, other Client's accounts, or another Company.

5.2.6. Market prices of all financial instruments frequently fluctuate, which is beyond the control of the Company. All market price movements are dependent on the financial instrument itself and are highly associated with financial risks, including loss due to market volatility which may arise upon the Client's use of the services. The Company does not advise the Client on the merits and aptness of any trade or contract entered into under this Agreement, nor will the Company monitor the Client's investments. The Client understands and agrees that execution of any order does not indicate that the Company has approved or recommended that trade or order.

5.2.7. Price quotes will be displayed on the trading platform for the Client to manage his/her entry and exit point in executing an order or trade. The Company can only accept orders and trades of existing financial instruments with valid specifications. The Company reserves the right to alter the price quote of any order effective immediately if it deems necessary.

5.2.8. For every initiated order and trade, the trading platform shall be indicated and entered through the trading platform. The price quote of a financial instrument or asset shall be available to execute an instruction for a transaction or contract with a principal amount, not more than the maximum leverage, as determined by the liquidity providers. Price quotes and maximum leverage offered to the Client may vary according to his/her account condition or proficiency and may differ from what is offered to other Clients, which the Company may change or cancel at any time without the obligation to explain. The Company reserves the right, in its absolute discretion, to immediately change, cancel or reject to deal on any price quote, or cease the provision of the price quotes of any financial instrument at any time without the obligation to explain.

5.2.9. The Company has the right to modify and alter specifications such as leverage, contract sizes, spreads, swaps, and other provisions connected to the day trading conditions according to the market situation. Any changes in this regard may take effect immediately without prior announcement.

5.2.10. The Client ensures that he/she has thoroughly read and understood the Risk Disclosure before entering and executing an order or trade. The Client can execute any available financial instrument or asset provided that such execution does not breach the terms and conditions of the Risk Disclosure and this Agreement. Instructions and orders can be sent to the official email, and if the Client sends his/her instructions through email, such request will be subject to the approval of the Company. The Client must confirm instructions provided outside of the trading platform in writing.

5.2.11. The Client acknowledges that the price quote of a financial instrument or asset can be different from the price when the trade or order was entered, wherein such difference may occur due to a sudden change in the market price while executing the order. Changes in the market prices may positively or negatively affect the trades and investment of the Client. The Company reserves the right to refuse and reject any order or price quotation request from the Client if the respective financial instrument is restricted from execution if it deems necessary. The Company may impose restrictions and limitations with the submission of order and trade, its volume, and the number of positions executed in a day, and if obligatory, the Company may reject, cancel or close such order.

5.2.12. The Client must ensure that the specifications of his/her trade or orders are correct, accurate, and complete upon execution through the platform. With the use of the trading platform, the Client acknowledges the risks of opening and closing trades or orders that can affect the overall status of his/her trading account. Accordingly, the Client is solely responsible for any loss or damage that may occur if he/she enters or submits an order or trade by mistake or with incomplete or inaccurate information intentionally or unintentionally. While the Company will not be liable for such error or violation, the Company will not be obligated to advise or provide the Client any recommendation at the time being.

5.2.13. Regardless of the chosen method of the Client to submit or execute his/her trade or order, the Client is solely responsible for completing and implementing the position. The Client ensures that he/she complies with the requirements and obligations in this Agreement upon submission of the order or trade.

5.2.14. Certain intractable occurrences in the financial market are beyond the Company's control, including, without limitation, the market's volatility, data latency, speed of online operation, and connection of the Client. While the Company will not be liable for any damage or loss that the Client may incur due to the foregoing eventuality, the Company may, but is not obligated to, provide resolution to the Client in line with the terms of this Agreement and of the Order Execution Policy. Price quotes and other financial instruments may be unavailable in case of force majeure events in line with Paragraph 10.2.3. of this Agreement.

5.2.15. After submitting an order or instruction, the Client must assure that he/she will be available for contact to confirm and verify the execution. Proper account management and monitoring are responsibilities of the Client, including the supervision of his/her executed and ongoing trades. Specific financial instruments or assets may be restricted or prohibited from execution if it exceeds the maximum risk levels and limits that liquidity providers impose. The Client acknowledges that the orders and pending trades are automatically executed sequentially. If, in any case, the Client is uncertain whether the order has been approved or his/her trade has been executed, he/she may send an email for further verification or contact the Company through its available means of communication.

5.2.16. The Client understands and agrees that if his/her trading account's funds are insufficient or if any of his/her trades fluctuate, the Company may prohibit or close such trade. The Company reserves the right to restrict, suspend or terminate the use or access of the Client to his/her trading account on reasonable grounds. The Company may withhold any trade and order if it deems necessary or if the Client violates any of the terms and conditions in this Agreement. Some orders may be unavailable for execution if the liquidity provider has not provided its price, wherein the order shall only be executed if it ranges within the price quote provided by the liquidity provider.

5.2.17. Trades can be closed manually in the trading platform, wherein overnight trades shall incur rollover fees. In relation to the additional legal documentation of the Company, Risk Disclosure, the Client understands and accepts the risks associated with financial investments that may lead to a capital deficit or loss. The Client hereby acknowledges that if he/she fails to close the trade of a financial asset or contract before it expires, the ongoing trade may automatically close despite the floating profit or loss. A financial asset or contract trade may be excluded from automatic closure if the Client's trading account is stable and sturdy, and its statistics meet the quality standard. If such a case occurs, transferring to a different liquidity provider is feasible subject to this Agreement's terms and conditions. The Client understands and accepts that investing with financial assets and contracts may affect the Client's capital investment. The Client hereby acknowledges that if a financial asset or contract expires before closing the trade, this may result in an automatic trade closure.

5.2.18. If the Client has a shares reservation or contract reservation that was not implemented or was not successfully executed, its amount percentage equivalent will be deducted from the Client's trading account. If the Client has a shares reservation or contract reservation that was not modified or successfully executed, its amount in proportion with the percentage of the contract volume will be deducted from the trading account. For the Client's benefit, the Company reserves the right to close an ongoing trade in divided lots or volumes to indemnify or mitigate the floating loss from the total floating profit. The relevant trading contract can be considered settled if the Client meets the required percentage volume, which includes 25% in each market (Forex, Indices, Stocks, and Commodities). Moreover, trades under the contract can also be considered settled if they profited, wherein negative trades will be excluded. Trading strategies such as Hedging, Expert-Advisors trading, and Scalping or Arbitraging shall not be classified into the efficient trading volume. These trading strategies are strictly prohibited, which are eligible grounds for the Company to terminate any agreements and contracts with separate charges, including canceling all the lots from the successfully executed trades during the contract period.
